The Benefits of a Strong Relationship with NHDES

The regulatory review process often brings consulting professionals and State regulatory staff to the table to work through challenging projects with varying objectives. Developing streamlined permitting processes and building trust and respect among the various participants, especially professionals who work in NH throughout their careers, is critical to the success of all parties.

In this quarterly meeting, we will hear from Clark Freise, DES Assistant Commissioner; Tom Burack, former DES commissioner and currently working with the Environmental Council of States helping identify effective management practices; and two Wetlands Bureau colleagues, Collis Adams and Darlene Forst.

The goals of the meeting will be to have an active discussion to identify ways that NHANRS and NHDES can jointly work to build and maintain a strong working relationship; provide mutual professional support; and, if desired by the members, form a working committee to continue the dialogue.
